

Audition Technique Workshop– With Brian Levy, CDC Breaking Away From The Pack

Casting Director Brian Levy, CDC – is pleased to offer his highly acclaimed audition technique workshop – ‘Breaking Away From The Pack’; this workshop is the last of his Spring series. Brian is one of Toronto’s leading casting directors. He has been casting television, film and commercials for over twenty years. For his complete resume visit www.brianlevycasting.com. Brian has been coaching actors for auditions and teaching audition technique...and actor survival for over 15 years.

Learn about the AUDITION process from someone who IS the audition process. I will teach you the SECRETS to doing stronger auditions and you will become a more successful and informed actor. I will show you where actors consistently fail in the audition process...that has nothing to do with acting ability. Find out where actors have real power within the audition process. Learn how to make the right choices BEFORE you audition... Know what producers and directors look for...and what is said after you leave the room. Acquire the skills to be more confident in audition and know to succeed.

“Invaluable experience. Brian gives feedback right down to the tiniest detail. Learn how to avoid common and basic mistakes actors make in audition. Take this workshop! It’s fabulous.” Sydney Kondruss, ETM Mgt.

“I booked three commercials, got a new head shot and a new agent after taking your workshop.” Marnie W. 3SG

“I really enjoyed the class. I had 2 auditions the following week and went in MORE confident and prepared. I have recommended your class and want to say thank you for such a positive experience” Chelsea Leaman

“Thank you for the amazing workshop, we loved it and learned a great deal.” Dale Millsop & Farah Bhanji

“...I wanted to tell you how happy I was with the workshop. It became so clear how easy it is to get lost in a crowd. I cannot wait for my next audition to try this stuff out!” Maura Grierson / Jana Abrams Talent
